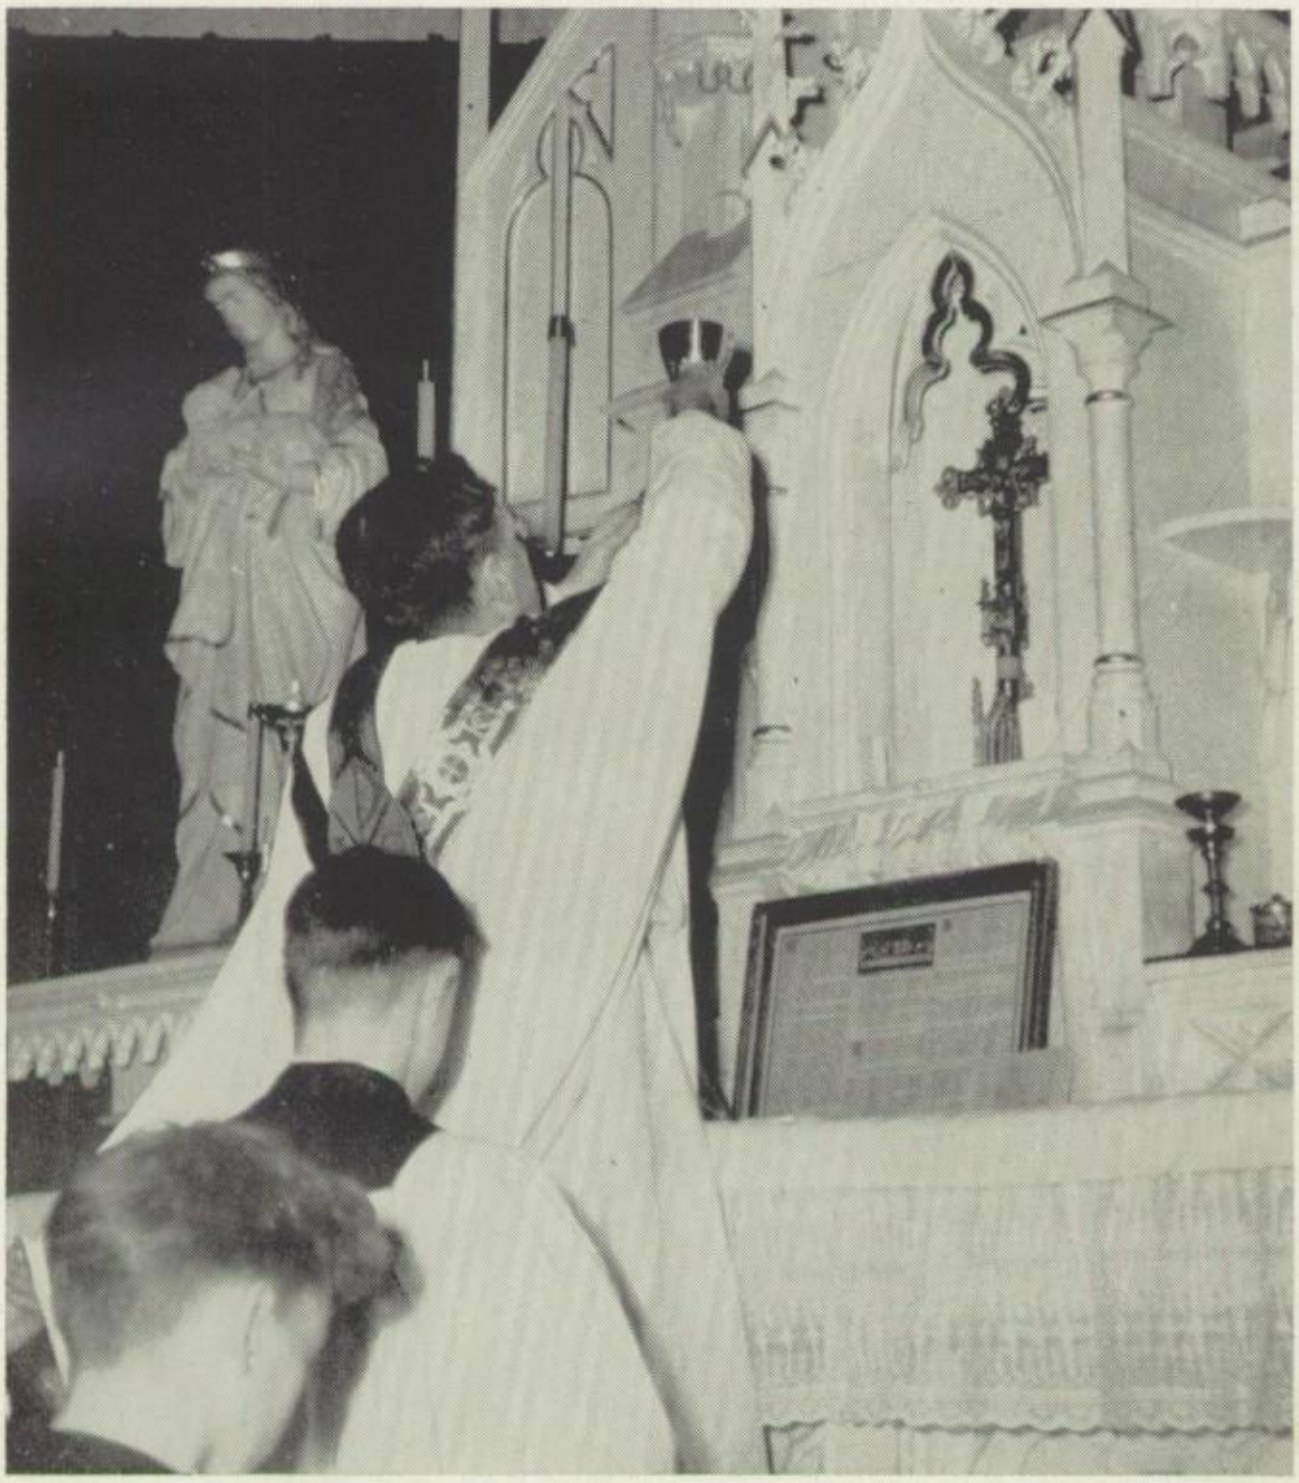
DEDICATION . . .

Mother Mary Catherine McAuley,
Foundress of the Sisters of Mercy.

In appreciation and gratitude, we, the Seniors of 1952, dedicate our Picada to our teachers, the Sisters, who, through our school years have striven to enrich our lives by helping us to increase our knowledge of God, to deepen our confidence in God, and to strengthen our love of God.

Going Christ's Way With Christ



CHRIST as the guiding spirit of our lives; Christ as our intimate companion in every thought, word and action is our theme not just for a year but for all time. We seek Him in joy and sorrow, in victory and defeat, for we are Going Christ's Way With Christ.

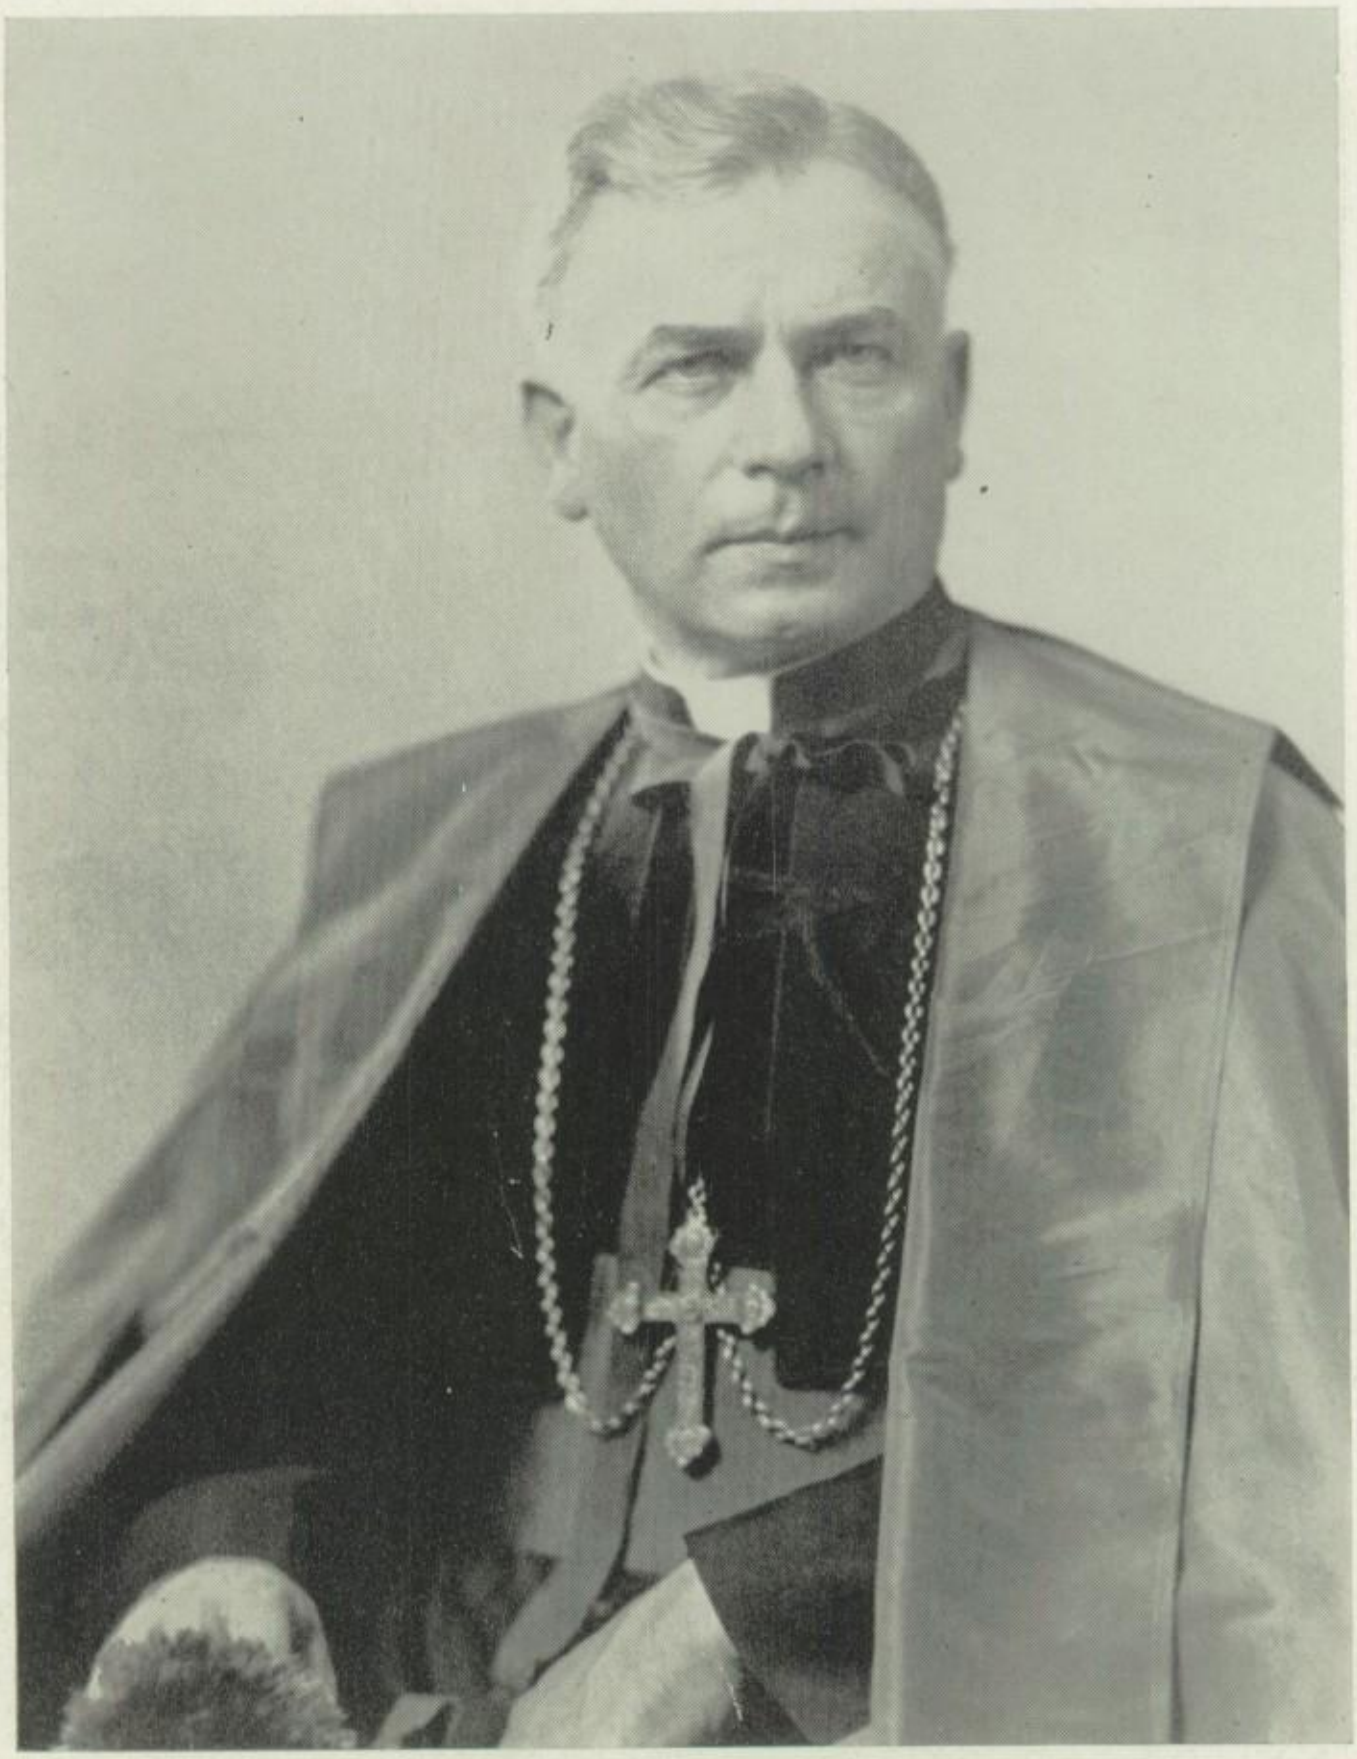
Go, therefore, and make disciples of all nations,



+ MOST REV. KARL J. ALTER

PICADA STAFF

PICTURES, ads, patrons, subscriptions, and good management all make it possible to develop a successful Picada, and these students have worked zealously as true Cavaliers to realize this project. With the help of God, the guidance of their teachers and the full co-operation of the student body, they have been able to attain this goal.

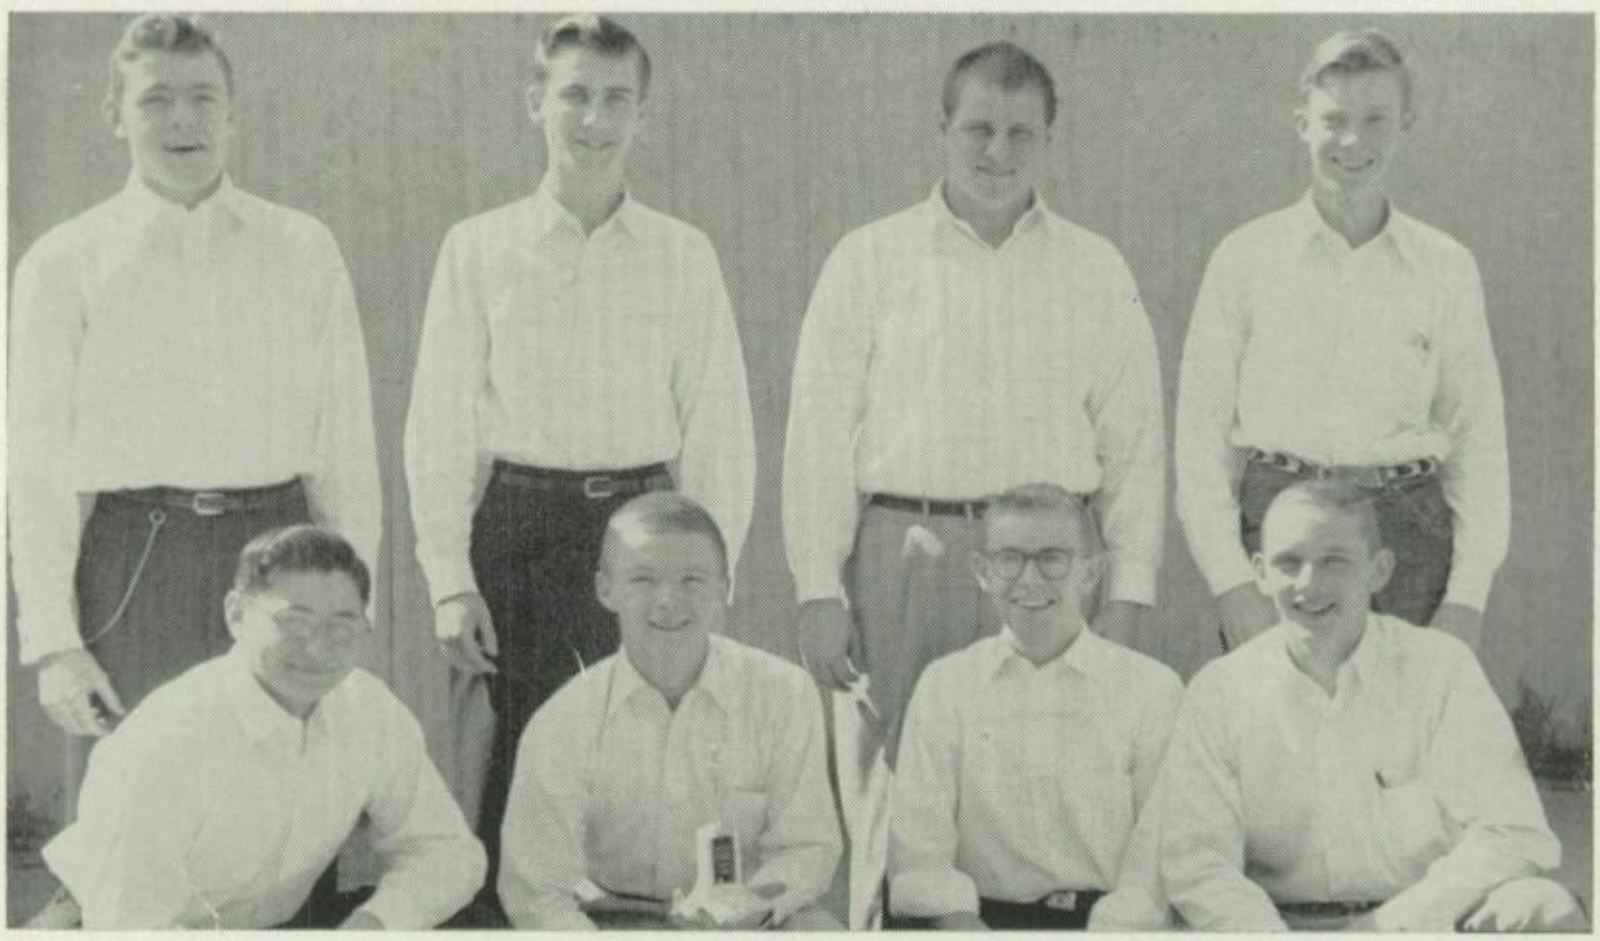
SENIOR ACTIVITIES

A big thrill for every senior is the day he is measured for his cap and gown. Jim Frock mounts a chair to adjust Ed Sauers cap. The girls, Bertha and Janet, have other interests.

It's refreshment time at the Christmas party. Seniors dig in for more potato chips and pass out sandwiches and cokes.

Senior boys captured the intramural basketball championship. Coached by Jim Frock of the varsity squad, they proved to be too fast for all opponents.



MOSTLY SENIORS

Spiritual Life

OUR RETREAT

OUR retreat master this year was Father O'Leary who was greeted by the students of Piqua Catholic High with an attentive and heart-warming welcome.

As in the past the students took their three-day retreat seriously as could be plainly seen in their behavior and their presence at daily Mass.

Father O'Leary led the students in prayer and the Way of the Cross and gave inspirational talks on the importance of the soul. He also told of his experiences as a missionary in South America and the great need of more missionaries in all foreign lands.

Each afternoon of spiritual exercises was concluded with Benediction. However, the day was not ended for the retreat master for he was always available to advise any student who might desire assistance.

THE STATIONS OF THE CROSS

EVERY Thursday afternoon during the holy season of Lent the entire student body directed by Father Von Kaenel or Father Lizza joined in honoring the passion and death of Christ by reliving the Way of the Cross.

MAY CROWNING

MEMBERS of the Senior Class pay tribute to our Blessed Mother as they prepare to crown her Queen of May and Lady of their hearts. They consecrate themselves to her and ask her guidance and protection throughout their lives.

COME LET US ADORE

God made us that we might give glory to His greatness by adoring Him and by enjoying and participating in His infinite perfections for all eternity. He has placed us on earth so that we may merit that reward by fulfilling His will in our regard. Students have frequent opportunities for growing in God's grace and love.

CHOIR AND CAROLS

The members of the choir give glory to God each morning as they join their voices in singing His praises.

The Christmas carols presented by the high school this year were an inspirational preparation for the coming of the Infant Savior.

C. M. S. C.

C.S.M.C.ers participated in a variety of activities during the year. Christmas baskets were filled. Stamp drives were held for missions. Variety show donations and individual class donations were given to the Bishops' Relief Fund. Catholic magazines were collected to be sent to home and foreign missions. The Oratorical contest was a highlight of the year with students from each class participating.

JUNIOR ACTIVITIES

AS THE forty-three members of the Class of '53 wended our way toward our old Alma Mater this year, our thoughts were on but one thing---the Junior-Senior Prom. Selling refreshments at the football and basketball games, and giving dances and class parties helped us to obtain the money needed for this event. With cooperation and hard work the school gym was transformed into a beautiful city of Paris, a center of music and art.

We will always remember the work and joy of our Junior year with a feeling of satisfaction for a job well done.

SOPHOMORE ACTIVITIES

AMONG the highlights of our Sophomore year were the Skating Party and the Sophomore-Senior Breakfast with the Sophomores as hosts on both occasions. The athletic program was broadened this year by the organization of an intramural sports program in basketball and volley ball. The Sophomore girls were champs both times, but that's all right, boys, we know you'll do better next time and we did need your coaching and support.

If you are looking for good sportsmanship, school spirit, and enthusiasm, you want the class of '54.

FRESHMAN ACTIVITIES

WE the Class of '55 timidly started our four years of high school. Initiation made us "honest to goodness" members of PCHS and we were ready to enjoy our first high school activity, the Initiation Dance, sponsored by the Seniors and the Mothers' Club.

In the field of sports you could always be sure to see the Freshmen. We weren't able to win any trophies but we will be in there trying again next year.

We closed the year by honoring our friendly Seniors and treating the entire school to a grand picnic.

School Life

RELIGION

THOUGH we have long past the day of our Baptism we still remember that wonderful gift of being born again by the Holy Spirit. This and the study of our religion has helped us to a better understanding of the engrossing story of God's love for the human race.

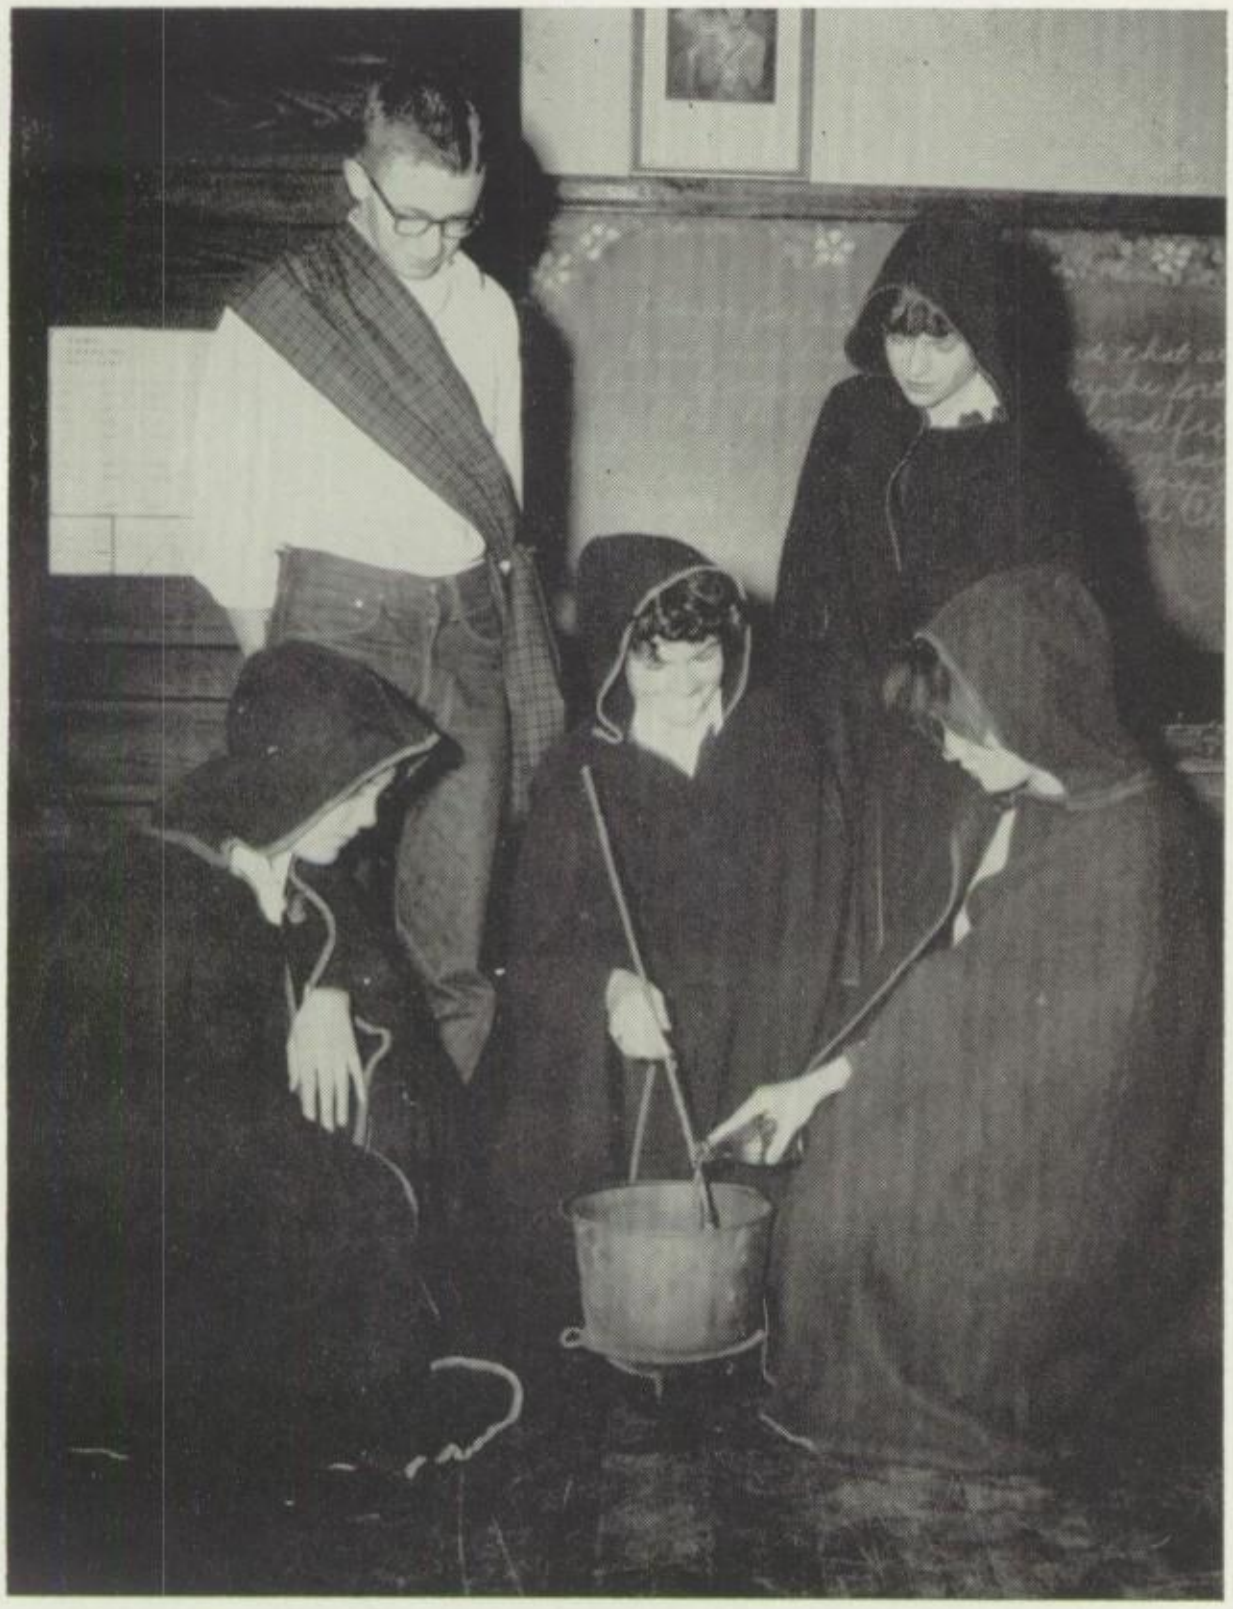
As freshmen we learned of how God started man on the quest for perfect happiness.

In our sophomore year we concentrated on God's eternal love for us by His passion and death which satisfied divine justice and regained for us the opportunity to earn everlasting bliss.

We saw how God enabled us to love Him and be loved by Him through our study of the Blessed Trinity in our junior year of religion.

As seniors we began to think of our Eternal Commencement which we gain by GOING CHRIST'S WAY WITH CHRIST.

ENGLISH



The three witches, B Ward, N. Bauman, and D. Reed enact a scene from Macbeth with R. Holtgreven as Hecate and B. Heckman as Macbeth eagerly watching the caldron.

THE English that is taught in our school raises the student's thinking to the higher planes of life. It is very important that the students read literature which shows the life of grace as the beginning of the life of glory. Our teachers, through English, show us how the impact of the faith is seen in the development of English letters. We are taught to observe the gradual departure from the truth and beauty of the complete Christian tradition and to recognize that writers who make men self-sufficient and who stress only material progress represent attitudes of mind that are entirely at variance with our own beliefs.

SCIENCE

M. Treon, B. Barhorst, J. Davis, T. Benkert, L. Swallow, J. Foster, J. Francis, J. Guillozet, and D. Butsch in the science laboratory

IN THE beginning God created heaven and earth and He filled this earth with all that we possess today. During our four years in high school some of our time is spent in the study of our land and all the things therein. In our regular schedule general science is studied in our freshman year, biology in our sophomore year, and chemistry and physics in our junior and senior years. Thus many angles of science are treated as we advance, and in so doing we learn to appreciate these great gifts from God.

SOCIAL STUDIES

THE complexities of our modern economic industrial life and the particular problems it presents to the high school graduate of today make a special course of study imperative.

The purpose of our history course is to give us a knowledge and an appreciation of the historical origins of the society in which we are living and in which we expect to play a vital part.

Through our Christian Social Studies our teachers endeavor to present the fundamental aims of American democracy, despite its shortcomings, as being in agreement with the teaching of the Church relating to the freedom and dignity of the individual.

J. Woodard directing a class in American History. M. Marchal recites and M. Stricker, B. Brandewie and F. Went are interested listeners.

HOMEMAKING

TO become better Catholics and, therefore, better Americans, we must begin early to lay the foundation for a happy and satisfactory home and family life. Our course in homemaking will help us to establish Christ-centered homes of our own.

HOME NURSING

THE home nursing program of the Red Cross is based on the premise that family health protection and home care of the sick are essentially a family concern, and that homemakers and potential homemakers need to have the skills and knowledge that enable them to carry such responsibility effectively. Our special gratitude is extended to Mrs. Collins whose contributions of skill and persevering patience have made this course an inspiring and educational experience for us.

MATHEMATICS

MATHEMATICS is our tree of science which branches out into several basic subjects such as arithmetic, algebra, geometry, and trigonometry which must be planted and well cultivated in the minds of our youth. Without a broad knowledge of mathematics we could not do many of the essentials of everyday life. We could not dance, sew, or build bridges such as the one from which this geometry class is observing the surrounding scenery.

Realizing this fact both the teachers and the students concentrate on developing this highly useful and necessary science in the minds of our future homemakers and business men.

COMMERCIAL STUDIES

Seated are D. Reed, P. Smith, B. Jacob
Second Row: Nancy Couchman, Carole Liest
Standing are S. Smith, R. Holtgreven

ON FOUR counts---skill, experience, general education, and personality are job requirements met. Real preparation for employment must be within the individual since he always brings himself to the job; hence personal development is of first importance. The commerce department endeavors to provide the necessary specialized skill training as well as opportunities for the development of those traits which contribute to the making of a well-rounded employee as well as a well-rounded person.

DRIVER TRAINING

AS a part of their course these members of the Driver Training class at Piqua Catholic high study the mechanical make-up of a car as well as the proper driving habits which are necessary for developing the youth of today into capable and safety-minded drivers.

Here, Nancy Teach, under the competent guidance of Norbert Noreck, the instructor, prepares to change a tire as other members of the course look on with keen interest. The observers are Bill Liddy, Maxine Henderson, Ann Maher, June Meiring, and Janet Kerrigan.

LANGUAGES

THE necessity of a wide knowledge and understanding of the language and literature of the people of other countries has been recognized by these Freshmen who endeavor to learn more about their customs. Here a few members of the Freshman Latin class demonstrate a Roman banquet while other members look on. Pictured at the table are Kay Holler, Pat Hair and Shirley Neiberg.

A class in Spanish is prepared to witness a film on Latin-American culture. The beauty of the language and music of Old Spain can thus be more readily appreciated. Sue Carey has donned an appropriate costume for the occasion.

The law of the Lord is perfect, giving refreshment to the soul . . .

P. C. H. S. GLEE CLUBS

CAME early Spring and with it the metamorphosis of the Glee Clubs. The PCH auditorium was the scene of a concert which highlights the programs of the year. The purpose of the concert is to impart to all what the students of PCH have come to take as a matter of course, the choral music of excellent glee clubs. The reason for the success of the clubs is attributable to the one hundred percent cooperation of the members together with the praiseworthy use of God-given talent.

DIRECTOR—Mr. Joseph Boney

WE SALUTE YOU

PIQUA Catholic proudly salutes three champions. Carolyn, Mary Lou, and Doris have brought honor to themselves and to Piqua Catholic.

CAROLYN FULLER is a student with journalistic talent whose essay won first place in the Fire Prevention contest. Carolyn also had an essay and a poem published in the N. H. S. Anthology.

MARY LOU KLOSTERMAN'S essay on "What Old Glory Means to Me" was the only one selected from the Piqua area to be sent to the district American Legion contest. The N. H. S. Anthology printed an essay and a poem written by Mary Lou.

DORIS REED was Piqua Catholic's oratorical finalist who placed third in the Bishop Thill finals and then went on to compete in the Archdiocesan finals at Dayton. Doris has also been outstanding for her essays and poetry during her four years.

Another champion is Senior TOM CASERTA who proved to be the outstanding salesman on the PICADA staff. His cheerful dispostion and his ability as a salesman should make his success assured. Thanks, Tom.

THE Cavalier gridders, defending champions of the Tri-County League, had to be satisfied with fourth place in the league this season. After winning the first three games by good scores the tide seemed to turn for the boys. Wet weather dominated the rest of the season and hampered the light team considerably. Though the boys kept a good spirit throughout the season, weather conditions and injuries compelled the Cavaliers to settle for a record of five wins and four losses. The team under the new head coach Thomas Racciatti worked mostly from the "T" formation.

Many of the underclassmen saw action with the varsity during the season so we have a good outlook in 1952.

THE Cavalier basketball team broke even during their regular season this year with a nine and nine record. Lack of height was the most serious problem that confronted the team and coaches, and more than one game dropped out of the teams clutches in the last quarter. The reserve team which turned in a fine season looks like promising material for next year's varsity team.

Liddy goes up for the rebound.

GOOD pitching backed by excellent teamwork saw the Cavalier nine off to a flourishing start. The high point of the season was the opening game of the tournament with East Liberty when pitching star George Brading hurled a brilliant no-hit game. The Irish then went on to swamp the Tipp City team with a 10 to 4 victory but tasted defeat in the semi-finals when a strong Northwestern nine walked off with the laurels.

At press time the season's record stands at seven wins and three losses.

THE Piqua Catholic grade school football team had a very successful season in 1951. We participated in eight games, won six, tied one, lost one. The size of some of the teams and schools we played makes this record one to be very proud of. The grade school had victories over Bennett Junior High (1), Wapakoneta St. Joe (2), Mother of Sorrows of Cincinnati (2), Boys' Home in Fayettville (1). The only defeat was to Bradford Junior High, and the tie was with Bennett Junior High.

We are looking forward to another good team in '52 as we build for the future.
